HERE'S YOUR COAL.

Black Diamonds Coming in Rapidly from Pittsburg.

The scenes along the river to-day presents a very lively appearance, small crowds of people being gathered here and there on the bank eagerly watching the approaching boats that are bringing in the long lookedfor coal. The steamers run very close together, and are carrying large tows well filled with the precious article for which it was dreaded we would be compelled to suffer during the long, cold and dreary days this winter. As each boat nears the city's wharf, the steam is let into the whistle, and through it is sounded the glad tidings. About 4,000,000 bushels are for Cincinnati, the balance being consigned to other ports. W. H. Br. wn & Co. receive about one million bushels, a portion of which is now at the foot of his elevators. Dealers do not think this little rush will have any immediate effect on the prices, and say that coal will remain at $4 a load for some time. The following boats have arrived at this city, some of which have been conthis city, some of which have been consigned to points below and are now on their way down the river, having received orders above here: Dick Fulton, 18 barges; Conl Valley, 9 barges; Harry Pr wn, 6 barges; Dauntless, 12 barges and 2 flats; Hornet, 13 barges; Bonz, 10 barges and 1 flat; Thomas Dodsworth, 14 barges; T. Sixty tows left Pittsburg. It and about half of them have arrived. The key came in with 12 barges. The Hornet was liver her carge at this point for Simpson, 118 or & Co.

The following boats arrived and passed on down the river between 11:00 a. m. and 12:30 p. m. to-day: Condon, 5 barges; Sampson, No. 2, 14 barges; Enterprise, 4 barges; Belle McGowan, 8 barges and 5 flats; George Matheson, 9 barges of Raymond City coal; Matheson, 9 barges of Raymond City coal; William Stone. 9 barges; Bengal Tiger, 6 barges; W. He stated that after being dischar ed from the Kentucky Pentientiary he assumed the name of Harry C. Hulse. He also said that on the day of the rape he had his head tied up, and that after his arrest the statements made by the arresting officers. Chief of Police, etc., were extorted from him. The testimony taken to-day was as follows: Hulse we cross-examined by Mr. Outcait. He was more arefully dressed than previously. He said that of the 18th of February he went to the C., H. & Il Depot to look for work. He left the place abod 9:30 o'clock and went up town. He jumpet the fence to get into his house. He was intoxinated. Went to the garret to sleep, and went into the cellar Wednesday afternoon. Here he remained all day and half of Thursday. His wife brought him his meals. He told her to lock him in. He said his wife cut his hair on Wednesday evening. He heard of the charge sgainst him on the next morning. Some rebuttal testimony was taken, the witnesses examined being Herman Menke, Alfred Hineman and Captain Riley. This closed the cvidence.

Major Blackburn asked the Court to charge the man and captain Kitey. This cooled dence.

Major Blackburn asked the Court to charge the jury fully on the question, firstly, as to whether a rape had been committed, and secondly, to state the law upon the question of the identity. Judge Longworth said he would.

The General goes to Louisiana on invitation of Republican Executive Committee of that State, but was unable to say whether any other prominent speakers from the East would take part also in the canvass of Louisiana. The Ex-Governor has not grown a day older, apparently, than when he took part four years ago in the stirring Presidential canvass in Ohio, and possesses the same genial smile that made him so popular in the army and when in Congress, while his voice has the same hearty ring that makes him so persuasive a stump orator. The General does not talk politics except from the rostrum.

Dennis Shay, a farmer living a few miles back of Cincinnati, came to the city last Wednesday with a load of produce. Nothing was heard of him until this morning, when he was found at Avondale, whither he had gone to claim his team, which had strayed out that way and had been taken possession of by the Marshal of that village. The supposition is that Shay had been on a hurrah and got lost.
